The Chartered Institute of Arbitrators Celebrating its Centenary Year in 2015

This is a unique opportunity to showcase the Institute and its work in the promotion of arbitration and other forms of dispute resolution globally. The Institute is planning a number of flagship events including a 2 Day Conference – Century: Shaping the Future of Arbitration, a Centenary Book and the creation of a Centenary Fund to finance future research in the projects in the field of private dispute resolution. The Centenary celebrations will be open to all members of the Institute, those who wish to become members, clients, retired members of staff, professionals associated in other professions, opinion formers and government officials. The Institute will focus its Centenary activity on the future rather than just a retrospective look at the first 100 years.
