Young Engineer of the Year Award 2003 - Ir Toni ZEN Tung-yee

The Young Engineer of the Year Award 2003 has been presented at the 28th Annual Dinner of the Institution which was successfully held on 5 March 2003, at the Hong Kong Convention and Exhibition Centre.

The Organising Committee is pleased to have received good response from a wide spectrum of 15 nominations from government departments, consultants, public utilities, public transport organisations and universities for this first Young Engineers of the Year Award of the Institution. All entries are of very high quality and the selection process has been competitive, hence the decision on the selection has never been easy for the Panel of Judges.

The Grand Prize goes to Ir Toni Zen Tung-yee, who was nominated by Ove Arup & Partners Hong Kong Limited. She received the award including a cash prize of HK$20,000, a certificate and a trophy as a permanent memento of her success from President, Ir Dr Lau Ching-kwong.

Ir Zen conferred the award based on her distinguished contribution and achievement in traffic engineering, the community of Hong Kong and the HKIE. As a team leader of the Intelligent Transport System (ITS) Team of the Traffic Group of the company and a co-founder of the Intelligent Transportation Systems - Hong Kong (ITS-HK), she has made the most outstanding contribution to the promotion of ITS in Hong Kong overseas and to the local community. She has supervised the seven design and construction ITS projects of the Company covering over 56km of expressways, the Tuen Mun/Yuen Long area and the Hong Kong Island.

She has developed the typical Traffic Control and Surveillance System (TCSS) arrangement for adoption on open highways including Tolo/Fanling Highway and Deep Bay Link and closed highways of Route 9 between Shatin and Tsing Yi, Route 10 and the Shenzhen Western Corridor.

She has also devoted her time to teaching and community services. She is a Past Chairman of Young Members Committee of the Institution and a founder of the Community Service Group in the Young Members Committee. She spares no effort in organising activities with the charitable organisations.
